IMPORTANT BUDGET PROPOSALS

- Disclosure of wealth - It is proposed that all provisional taxpayers with assets above R50 million will be required to declare specified assets and liabilities at market values in their 2023 tax returns.
- Company Tax Rates - For years of assessment ending on or after 31 March 2023, the company tax rate will be reduced to 27% together with the implementation of the limitation of assessed losses and interest deductions in relation to certain foreign loans
- Home office expenses – Claims are based on the ratio of the actual floor area of the office to the actual floor area of the home. The office must regularly and solely be used for the purpose of the taxpayer's trade and specifically equipped as such. Where taxpayer is a salaried employee, his/her duties must be performed at the home office for more than 50% of the time. NB – the claiming of this deduction could impact the Primary Residence exemption for CGT on the disposal of the property.

EXEMPTIONS

Interest

- R23 800 per taxpayer on interest and foreign dividends.
- R34 500 per taxpayer 65 and older.
- Interest is exempt where earned by non-residents who are absent from SA for 182 days or more per annum and who are not carrying on business in SA.
- Interest paid to non-residents may be subject to Withholding Tax (WHT) at 15% where not subject to a Double Tax Agreement (DTA)

Dividends – local and foreign

- Most dividends received by local residents from SA resident companies are subject to dividend withholding tax (DWT) of 20%.
- Foreign dividends received by individuals are taxable at a maximum effective rate of 20% where less than 10% of equity held in the foreign entity.
- No deductions are allowed for expenditure to produce foreign dividends.
- If a SA resident holds more than 10% of the equity share capital in the foreign company declaring the dividend, any foreign dividends received by the resident will be exempt from tax.

CAPITAL GAINS TAX (CGT)

- Only gains accruing after 01/10/2001 on the disposal of assets, death, donation, exchange, loss or emigration are subject to CGT, subject to certain exemptions.
- The first R40 000 per annum of the capital gain or loss realised by individuals and special trusts is exempt from CGT or R300 000 in the year of death.

- Withholding tax for non-residents on sale of SA immovable property costing >R2m: 7.5% for natural persons, 10% for companies and 15% for trusts.
- If proceeds from sale of primary residence is R2m or less it is exempt; else exemption of R2m of the capital gain will apply to primary residence disposals if less than 2 hectares.
- Small business assets (persons over age 55 and market value of assets not more than R10 million): R1.8 million

Taxpayer	Inclusion rate (%)	Effective (%)

- Amounts received by or accrued to an individual invested in prescribed investments/policies will be exempt. Contributions are subject to R36 000 annual and R500 000 lifetime limit.

Foreign remuneration exemption:

- SA resident employees who render services for any employer outside RSA for a period exceeding 183 days during a period of assessment, and for a continuous period exceeding 60 days during such 183 day period, will be liable for income tax on their remuneration for that period subject to an exemption. From 01/03/2020 the exemption is limited to R1.25m per year.

PROVISIONAL TAX

The following individuals are not required to register for provisional tax purposes:

- No income derived from the carrying on of business.
- Taxable income will not exceed the tax threshold; or
- Taxable income derived from interest, foreign dividends and rental will not exceed R30 000.
- Deceased estates are not provisional taxpayers.

DEDUCTIONS AND TAX CREDITS

Pension, Retirement and Provident Fund contributions

From 01/03/2016, the deduction of the total contributions is limited to 27.5% of the greater of remuneration for PAYE purposes or taxable income (both excluding retirement fund lump sum and severance benefits). This deduction is limited to a maximum of R350 000 per annum.

All employer contributions towards these funds are taxed as a fringe benefit and treated as contributions paid to the fund by the employee.

Any contributions in excess of the annual limitations are carried forward to the following tax year. Any excess is further reduced by contributions set-off when determining taxable retirement fund lump sums or retirement annuities.

Medical and disability expenses

- Medical scheme fees tax credit:
Monthly credit of R347 (2022: R332) each for the taxpayer and his/her spouse (or first dependant), and a further R234 (2022: R224) for every additional dependant.

- Additional medical expenses tax credit:

Under 65 years with no disability

- 25% of medical scheme contributions in excess of four times the medical scheme fees tax credit, and
- 25% of any other qualifying medical expenses in excess of 7,5% of taxable income (excluding certain lumpsums).

Under 65 years with disability or 65 years and older

- 33,3% of medical scheme contributions in excess of three times the medical scheme fees tax credit, and
- 33,3% of other qualifying medical expenses.

Donations

Donations to certain public benefit organisations are limited to 10% of taxable income before deducting medical expenses. Any excess may be carried forward to the following year of assessment. The claim must be supported by a Section 18A certificate issued by the public benefit organization.

LIMITATION OF EMPLOYEE DEDUCTIONS

- Losses from secondary trades, incurred by individuals whose income exceeds R1 731 600 per annum, are ring-fenced in certain circumstances.

VARIABLE REMUNERATION

- Variable remuneration (i.e. commission, overtime, bonuses, reimburse travel and leave pay) is accounted for on a payments basis – this applies to the deductions for PAYE, inclusion of employee's gross income and the employer's income tax deduction.

FRINGE BENEFITS

Interest-free or low-interest loans

The difference between interest at the official rate and the actual amount of interest charged. The current official rate of interest is 5% per annum (4.75% from 01/12/2021 - 31/01/2022, 4.5% from 01/08/2020 – 30/11/2021; 4.75% from 01/06/2020 - 31/07/2020; 5.25% 01/05/2020 – 31/05/2020).

Travel allowance

Deemed expenditure rates, which may be used in determining the allowable deduction for business travel, where actual costs are not used, are as follows:

Value of the vehicle (including VAT) (R)	Fixed cost R	Fuel cost c/km	Maintenance cost c/km
0 - 95 000	29 836	131.7	40.9
95 001 - 190 000	52 889	147.0	51.1
190 001 - 285 000	76 033	159.7	56.3
285 001 - 380 000	96 197	171.8	61.5
380 001 - 475 000	116 438	183.8	72.3
475 001 - 570 000	137 735	210.8	84.9
570 001 - 665 000	159 031	218.0	105.5
Exceeding 665 000	159 031	218.0	105.5

Notes:

- The fixed cost is reduced on a pro-rata basis if the vehicle is used for business purposes for less than a full year.
- A logbook must be maintained to substantiate the actual mileage and business mileage travelled for the year to claim against a travel allowance received.
- No employees' tax is payable on a reimburse allowance paid by an employer to an employee, where the employee does not receive a travel allowance, provided the distance travelled is for business purposes and the rate per km does not exceed 418 cents per km.

80% of the fringe benefit or travel allowance is subject to PAYE on a monthly basis. If the employer is satisfied that at least 80% of the use of the motor vehicle in the tax year is for business, the percentage is reduced to 20%.

Company car

- Tax at 3,5% per month (3,25% per month where maintenance plan) on determined value (cash cost including VAT).
- A logbook must be maintained to substantiate the actual and business mileage travelled for the year, to reduce the fringe benefit on assessment.
- If the employee has borne the cost of licence, insurance, maintenance and fuel for private travel and the private distance travelled is substantiated by a logbook, further relief is available on assessment.

Subsistence allowance

Where the employee is by reason of his duties obliged to spend at least one night away from his usual place of residence, the employee is deemed to have expended:

- R152 (2022: R139) per day if the allowance or advance is granted to pay for incidental costs only, or
- R493 (2022: R452) per day if the allowance or advance is granted to pay for the cost of meals and incidental costs, or
- Where the allowance or advance is granted to pay for incidental costs only for travel outside South Africa (not exceeding six weeks) the applicable country's rate per day must be used.
